DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. The preliminary amendment to the claims filed on July 22, 2003 does not include a complete claim listing. Amendments to the claims filed on or after July 30, 2003 must comply with 37 CFR 1.121(c) which states:

(c) Claims. Amendments to a claim must be made by rewriting the entire claim with all changes (e.g., additions and deletions) as indicated in this subsection, except when the claim is being canceled. Each amendment document that includes a change to an existing claim, cancellation of an existing claim or addition of a new claim, must include a complete listing of all claims ever presented, including the text of all pending and withdrawn claims, in the application. The claim listing, including the text of the claims, in the amendment document will serve to replace all prior versions of the claims, in the application. In the claim listing, the status of every claim must be indicated after its claim number by using one of the following identifiers in a parenthetical expression: (Original), (Currently amended), (Canceled), (Withdrawn), (Previously presented), (New), and (Not entered).

(1) Claim listing. All of the claims presented in a claim listing shall be presented in ascending numerical order. Consecutive claims having the same status of "canceled" or "not entered" may be aggregated into one statement (e.g., Claims 1–5 (canceled)). The claim listing shall commence on a separate sheet of the amendment document and the sheet(s) that contain the text of any part of the claims shall not contain any other part of the amendment.

Since the reply filed on July 22, 2003 appears to be bona fide, claims 32-36 will be examined as presented in the original claim list.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Art Unit: 2834

3. Claims 32 and 33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 4,435,663 to Gambino et al.

Gambino et al. clearly teaches the construction of a thermochemical magnetic generator, comprising:

a generator (magnet 61 and coil 79) adapted to receive fuel (mixture of hydrogen and oxygen) and generate electricity and waste heat; and a metal hydride heat pump (column 2, lines 31-68) coupled to the generator to receive the waste heat to provide cooling.

It has been held that the recitation that an element is “adapted to” perform a function is not a positive limitation but only requires the ability to so perform. It does not constitute a limitation in any patentable sense. In re Hutchison, 69 USPQ 138.

4. With regards to claim 33, it should be emphasized that “apparatus claims must be structurally distinguishable from the prior art.” MPEP 2114. In re Danly, 263 F. 2d 844, 847, 120 USPQ 528, 531 (CCPA 1959) it was held that apparatus claims must be distinguished from prior art in terms of structure rather than function. In Hewlett-Packard Co. v Bausch & Lomb Inc., 909 F.2d 1464, 1469, 15 USPQ2d 1525, 1528 (Fed. Cir. 1990), the court held that: “Apparatus claims cover what a device is, not what it does” (emphases in original). To emphasize the point further, the court added: “An invention need not operate differently than the prior art to be patentable, but need only be different” (emphases in original).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 2834

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 34-36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. Patent No. 4,435,663 to Gambino et al. in view of U.S. Patent No. 5,608,308 A to Kiuchi et al.

Gambino et al. discloses the construction of a thermochemical magnetic generator as disclosed above.

However, it fails to disclose the generator being a fossil-fuel based generator.

Kiuchi et al. disclose the construction of an electric generator control system for hybrid vehicle, comprising generator (17) being operated by a fossil-fuel based generator (engine 16) for the purpose of actuating the electrical generator.

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made to use the fossil-fuel based generator disclosed by Kiuchi et al. on the thermochemical magnetic generator disclosed by Gambino et al. for the purpose of actuating an electrical generator.

7. With regards to claim 35, Kiuchi et al. disclose a continuous emissions monitoring system (23) coupled to the generator and the heat pump (16) and provide control of at least one of the generator and the heat pump based upon a chemical analysis of a monitored species.

8. With regards to claim 36, Kiuchi et al. disclose the monitored species being present in exhaust gas from the generator.

Conclusion

9. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. See PTO-892:
